New Friends

With nearly an even split on legacy families and first generation families, Couillardville 2025 was especially memorable as so many new friends were made. Stories were shared between current river and woods homeowners and the earlier farm owners of the same land. Even current Couillardville residents who had previously only waved at their neighbors now had become new friends.

In true demonstration of the Couillardville values of "Togetherness - Helpfulness

-Friendliness" everyone happily pitched in to make the day special. Many helped with preparations, the program and entertainment while everyone brought a generous dish to share and was ready to help at the end of the gathering.
